THE COLONIAL LANDSCAPE OF THE BRITISH CARIBBEAN

EDITED BY ROGER LEECH & PAMELA LEECH

This book brings together new research on the early modern landscapes of the British Caribbean: notably Bermuda, Jamaica, Florida, Barbados, Antigua, and especially St. Kitts and Nevis. Chapters cover a wide range of landscapes - domestic, military and industrial - and interests, including the archaeology and architecture of African-Caribbean slavery and emancipation, European settlements, sugar production, burial grounds, cartography, fortifications and trade.

FACING OTHERNESS IN EARLY MODERN SWEDEN

Travel, Migration and Material Transformations, 1500-1800

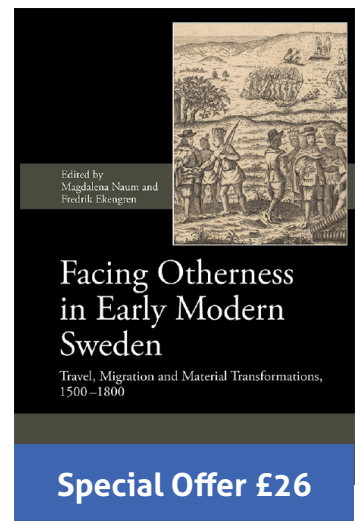

EDITED BY MAGDALENA NAUM & FREDRIK EKENGREN

The essays here offer a new perspective on early modern Sweden as deeply affected by the increasing internationality of the 16th-18th centuries. Set in the socio-political context of an expanding and changing kingdom, they deal with the character and impact of a wide range of cultural encounters - at home, in the colonies and during overseas travel.

Contribute[s] many fascinating and new findings about encounters in early modern Sweden, and between Swedes and the world beyond its borders.

WEST COUNTRY HOUSEHOLDS, 1500-1700

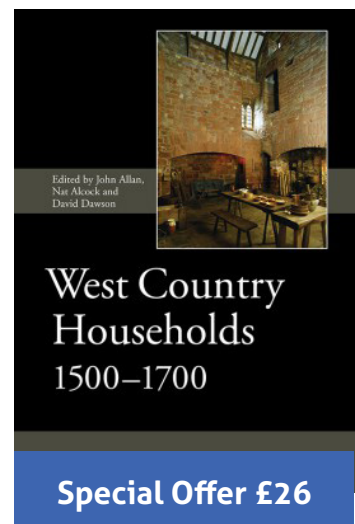

EDITED BY JOHN ALLAN, NAT ALCOCK & DAVID DAWSON

In the last forty years, south-west England has been the focus of some of the most interesting work on the early modern household in Britain. Its remarkable wealth of vernacular buildings has been the object of much investigation, alongside its rich collection of probate inventories and other documents; while productive excavations of household good from this period have thrown light on the patterns of consumption of ceramics, glass and metalwork.

The goal of this collection of essays is not only to educate and inform, but also to alert scholars and the public at large to important cultural artifacts of early modern England that are vulnerable to unwitting and careless rehabilitation.
